DETAILED ACTION

1. This is the fifth Office action on the merits of Application No. 10/791,432, filed on 02 March 2004. Claims 1-22 are pending.

2. The following documents have been received and filed as part of the patent application:
 - Foreign Priority Document, received on 03/02/04
 - Declaration and Power of Attorney, received on 04/23/04
 - Information Disclosure Statement, received on 10/17/05
 - New Declaration and Power of Attorney, received on 04/07/06

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The present specification does not adequately disclose how the claimed maximum free-wheeling gear and the claimed maximum free-wheeling speed are determined or predetermined. Since the present specification does not appear to adequately disclose how the maximum free-wheeling gear or speed is determined or predetermined, it is unclear how the drivetrain can be placed in the free wheeling mode without knowing the maximum free-wheeling gear or speed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicants' argument filed on 02 April 2007 has been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue,

"The maximum free-wheeling gear is a predetermined highest gear which does not vary after it is predetermined, see specification [0026], while the actual gear is the gear the transmission is in.

For example, if the maximum free-wheeling gear is, by design, the third gear in a five gear transmission, the vehicle can only enter a free-wheeling function when the transmission is in a gear equal to or less than third gear. In this example, when in first, second or third gear, the clutch can be disengaged to implement the free-wheeling function. However, in fourth and fifth gear the clutch cannot free-wheel because these gears are greater than the maximum free-wheeling gear. The same holds true for the maximum free-wheeling speed. When a vehicle speed exceeds the set maximum free-wheeling speed, for example 30 mph, the clutch is not permitted to free-wheel. However, if the Vehicle is at a speed that is equal to or less than the maximum free-wheeling speed, for example 20 mph, the vehicle may be switched to implement the free-wheeling function.”

Paragraph [0026] of the present specification discloses,

“[0026] As an initial condition for the free-wheeling function, different parameters may be selected. First the gear should be less than or equal to a maximum free-wheeling gear. The maximum free-wheeling gear is a predetermined highest gear in which the drive train may be switched to the free-wheeling function. In addition, the gas pedal must not be operated and an idling switch must be switched by the driver to active or the driver's desired torque must be less than zero. An additional condition is that the driving speed must be less than a maximum free-wheeling speed. Above the maximum free-wheeling speed, the vehicle is also not switched to the free-wheeling function. The free-wheeling function is also not activated when driving downhill has been detected. The free-wheeling function is activated only when an automatic driving program is selected and no creep function has been activated.”

Clearly, the present specification, paragraph [0026], does not adequately disclose how the claimed maximum free-wheeling gear and the claimed maximum free-wheeling speed are determined or predetermined; and furthermore, paragraph [0026] of the present specification does not adequately support applicants' argument/example as mentioned above.

Art Unit: 3681

Accordingly, as set forth in paragraph 4 above, The present claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
